CONCERT CHOIR & CHAMBER SINGERS

Did you sing in your high school or middle school choir, and you really enjoyed the teamwork and fun of making music together? At CSUSB, singing can still be a part of your academic life! We want you to sing with us, and you don't have to know how to read music to sing in some of our ensembles. Are you kind of curious? Read on, and get ready to join us!

CONCERT CHOIR The CSUSB Concert Choir is a large mixed (SATB) ensemble that performs well-loved choral-orchestral masterworks in addition to some modern works and choral premieres. This group focuses on building your voice and your musical skill set. You'll learn how to breathe correctly for singing, improve your vocal range, and how to interpret different styles of repertoire, and the basics to reading music. Concert Choir usually performs once or twice a semester, and occasionally joins our community partners at San Bernardino Symphony Orchestra. CC rehearses MW 1:20-2:30.

CHAMBER SINGERS The CSUSB Chamber Singers is a small mixed (SATB) ensemble that performs advanced, primarily unaccompanied repertoire, with an emphasis on modern pieces and premieres of new choral works in partnership with living composers, and composition majors within the music department. This group focuses on advanced vocal techniques and extended vocal techniques, and a basic ability of sight-reading is expected, although there is always room for a singer with a really gifted ear! CS rehearses TTh 10:30AM-11:45.
